

new apps

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 20 January 2010 19:53 -

the site is starting to get full. we have just added our second powerbuilder application to the cart section of the site. first we loaded our home builder service system. this system tracks service tickets and punch lists for home builders and new construction. the second application is a machine loading system. it was written for scheduling presses and binders for the printing industry. check out the cart and some of the screenshots.